A Painted Elephant by Jill Hartman

Jill Hartman

A Painted Elephant tells a story of affection unrequited, of course, like several the simplest stories. Our Juliet? A lonely Indian elephant, newly arrived on the Calgary Zoo from Holland, with a penchant for moonlight escapes. Her Romeo? The wood Maytag guy statue on Calgary's ninth Street, together with his unhappy eyes, his oaken thighs, his aloofness. This book, the 1st from Jill Hartman, is a tragi-comic narrative poem approximately pachyderm passion. Nina Simone, Pig Latin, German opera and a refrain of Canadian poets play within the background. Incense, speculaas cookies and inexpensive vegetation smell the air. And goddesses, myrmidons and shipwrecks seem with a few frequency. With fractured, playful language, the shrewd permanent and humorous Painted Elephant trumpets a huge new voice in Canadian poetry.
