anthropology of Karol Wojtyla.

Ashley K. Fernandes

during this dissertation, I express that the philosophical anthropology and Thomistic personalism of Karol Wojtyla (Pope John Paul II) offers an appropriate foundation for rebutting 4 arguments in prefer of euthanasia and physician-assisted suicide (EPAS): (1) the Argument from Autonomy; (2) the Argument from Compassion; (3) The Argument from the Evil of Suffering; and, (4) the Argument from the Euthanasia, assisted suicide, and the philosophical anthropology of Karol Wojtyla. lack of Dignity. The creation describes the present EPAS debate and the an important philosophical questions left unanswered. bankruptcy I makes a speciality of an evaluate of Wojtyla's personalism, articulated within the performing individual (1969). by way of tracing his philosophical influences, and critique of the ethical theories of Immanuel Kant and Max Scheler, I reveal how Wojtyla involves arrive at a synthesis of Thomistic metaphysics and Schelerian phenomenology. it truly is in spotting oneself as agent (causal efficacy), that one involves comprehend ethical responsibility, and in doing so permits the ethical act to rework the person. This has major implications for the Argument from Autonomy. bankruptcy II Euthanasia, assisted suicide, and the philosophical anthropology of Karol Wojtyla. will convey how the Argument from Compassion fails since it areas the subjective component of the moral act on the middle of morality, to the overlook of duty. In bankruptcy III, I display that the Argument from the Evil of anguish doesn't account for suffering's actual purpose: acknowledging the vulnerability of individuals and its hyperlink to human flourishing. In bankruptcy IV, I argue that the Argument from the lack of Dignity rests on a burdened Euthanasia, assisted suicide, and the philosophical anthropology of Karol Wojtyla. definition of dignity, due to the fact that intrinsic dignity exists in people simply because they're incommunicable persons. Finally, in bankruptcy V, I provide an method of the matter of EPAS that's rooted within the community. Participation in a neighborhood is vital to human fulfillment, whereas the event of alienation is detrimental. Therefore, I suggest that one method to the EPAS obstacle starts off with Euthanasia, assisted suicide, and the philosophical anthropology of Karol Wojtyla. a steadfast dedication to palliative and hospice care, asserting the price of one other accurately simply because we see "the other" as we see ourselves (another "I"). it will supply a version for the doctor-patient relationship, person who should engender a very good recognize for life, just because one is a person.
