Depois da morte da avó, Melinda tem vivido em sombrias casas de acolhimento. Agora encontrou calor e segurança com a mãe Joana e o André pequeno. Lembra-se de uma mulher que lhe fazia festas e dizia: «Flor de mel.» As explicações, semelhantes a contos de fadas, para a inexplicável ausência da mãe dão a Melinda algo a que se agarrar. Mas o pai volta para levá-la a um encontro com a sua "nova" mulher, que ao leitor atento parece a própria mãe de Melinda. Um raro livro, com um equívoco ultimate feliz.
